

Retracting or modification following an online ticket purchase

Par beber38, le 08/12/2008 à 11:06

Bonjour,

I am coming to order several tickets for the supercross at the sports palace and just after having made my purchase, I realized that I had made a mistake on the date.

There was no summary message so I did not pay attention to this information. I did not know there were several dates.

I contacted them immediately to know if you could change the date (for tomorrow) or cancel the order. They replied that this is impossible that I clicked and therefore that it is too late, well so bad for me. Given that this is a significant sum I will try to arrange with my friends for the date.

- But I wanted to know if all this is legal ?
(up to now every purchase on the internet that I made could be canceled)

Thank you in advance,
